I do not be-lieve there will be found one dissenting vice among the market gardeners if it is declared a nuisance and steps taken to remove it. If there is any business in the city that deserves the immediate attention of the citizens of Salt Lake City it is a produce exchange or market place.

Farewell Reception.

At the Second ward assembly rooms hast night was held a farewell entertainment in honor of Edder L. G. Hardy, Jr., who leaves shortly on a miration to the Netherlands. About one-half of the programme was not given owing to the absence of the performers, who were suddenly affected at the last moment. A baritone sole was given to Loranzo Eiggren, a recitation by Midred Brown, a Seprana sole by Emma Grimstell, a baritone sole by Alex Cambell, a vocal sole by Lizzie Bobinson, and a plane sole by Jessie Gudgell. Remarks appropriate to the occasion were made by Eishup Iveton, Elder L. G. Hardy, Jr., and Hishop I., G. Hardy, father of the departing missionary.

FAVORITE IN SALT LAKE Mrs. E. J. Maple, Nee Miss Margie Webber, Visiting Old Friends.

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Maple of Chicago are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Green of Waterlon on their way to New York. Mrs. Maple, who became a bride little more than a week ago, was formerly a popular favorite in Salt Lake's musical circles. As Miss Margie Webber Mhe sang her was into the hearts of all who heard her, and although it is years sines she has been heard here, the tones of her beautiful voice still haunt the moniory.

Before going to Europe Miss Webber studied under Prof. John K. Suillvan of this city. Two years of study in Berlin under the famous Gerster did wonders for the Utah singer, and during a brief stay here after her ceture from Europe, the simply captivated her heavers.

Now Mrs. Maple is on her way to New York to resume her studies under Gerster in the Damonesh school preparatory to entering the Beld of grand opera in April next. Her old time Salt Lake friends hope they will hace the pleasure of hearing her sing during her stay here.

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pink ham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so sly that frequently its presence is not suspected until it is far advanced.

Board of Health.

The City Council is worrying; in fact, it seems to be indulging in an intrigue for the benefit of the city. The Board of Health is ever watchful and guarding with a jealous eye the healthfulness of the citizens of Salt Lake City, using their influence in having ordinances passed preventing neighbors from neighboring, and doing one another acts of kindness in some hour of need, by quarantining them should they be a little sick, for fear of spreading some disease. They overlook in a great measure one of the prime factors and causes of disease namely, what we eat and what we drink.

Raps Roard of Education. So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by profuse menstruation, accompanied by unusual pain, from the ovaries down the groin and thighs. Raps Roard of Education.

The Board of Education is exerting every effort in order to keep children healthy at school, creating some new office for some "faddism"—a little more physical culture. Salt Lake City is said to have a population of 55,000, city and county, 77,000. Utah, Weber. Box Elder and Davis counties, a population of 75,000 or more. This is a combined population of 152,000 or more, doing a business of 51,000,000 a year. This does not include hay or grain, but is merely fruits and vegetables. This may seem extravagant in figures but I do not think it is.

Many Doing Business.

There are a greate many people doing brainess on this money. The Mayor, Councilmen, members of the Board of Health, Board of Education, lawyers, doctors, bankers, merchants and preachers are dependent in a great measure on the market gardener and horticultural business. But most all the laboring class of people are interested in baving a market place established where they may go and buy at wholesale and at wholesame prices. Where they may be made to feel that the United States coin is not legal tender on a paved street, that the paved district is consecrated and set apart by the City Council for the especial benefit of a few privileged grocery men.

MARKET FOR UTAH STOCK

What Should Be Done.

Now what do we want? That is the question. In a general way I am going to make some suggestions.

Let us have a market place controlled by the city, making charges for space and general accommodations.

Let us have a competent man to inspect produce, and compel all wagons selling at both wholesale and retail come to the market and have their loads inspected before going out.

Have an inspector visit all stores, compelling stores to use nothing but standard weights and measures, and forever stop the film and fluff methods of doing business. Compel the producer and merchant to sell by weight.

License for All. Los Angeles Man Here for Purpose of Opening New Market.

Upening New Market.

H. S. Stephenson of Los Angeles is in the city for the purpose of opening a market for Utan cattle in southern California. Mr. Stephenson represents the Chino Land and Water company, which owns 2.00 acres of land in southern California. The purpose is to buy cattle in Utah and ship them to California, where they are to be fed on beet pulp. This will be an experiment and has not been tried herestofore. Mr. Stephenson leaves Monday to look over two large bunches of cattle belonging to Mr. Sanders and Mr. White. License for All.

If there is to be a license for our wagons doing business in the city, have a license for all. Compel all wagons doing business in the city to pay a license, one for wholesnle and one for retail. The reason is that there are few if any of those driving these wagons from the outside who raise all of their own produce. They raise some of it all the time, but not all of it all the time. But this ought not to apply to a straight load of produce, that is, potatoes, fruits and so forth, unless attention is called to the fact that they are being bought and sold.

Have the market open at 5 in the morning and close at 9 in the morning. But at any rate establish a market place for the benefit of Salt Lake City and vicinity. For the vicinity is free of gardens.

Salt Lake City, September 8, 1905.

TUMORS CONQUERED THERE ARE TROUBLES IN THE BANANA TRADE

Jamaica Speculators Try to Put Up Prices for English Market.

LONDON, Sept. 4.-Certain Jamaica banana growers are dissatisfied with the prices which they receive for their crop-These speculators think that they ought to get $55 for 100 bunches. They are not content with $40, at which they can make contracts year in and year out. The Jamaicans pay one-half the subsidy which Elder Dempster & Co. get for running their hoats in accordance with the arrangement which was made by Mr Chamberlain, and that contract still has five and one-half years to run. They do not take into account the fact that freight and passenger rates have been reduced materially. They expected to get a better price for their bananas because of the subsidy, and being disappointed in this, they are now abusing the United Fruit company, alleging that the Americans have set up a "corner" against them.

Andrew W. Preston, the president of the United Fruit company, is now in London for the purpose of looking into matters. In an interview he said:

Is Poor Man's Fruit.

"In the first place the banana must be sold at a cheap price or it will not sell at all; it is the poor man's fruit. If we had to pay the Jamaicans $55 per 100 bunches we could not sell at the prices that we are now selling at; we should kill the trade. The grower who makes $40 per 100 bunches has a splendid margin of profit unless there should be a hurricane. But the Jamaican speculator wants more.

"The Americans went seriously into the business in Jamaica in 1885. They turned wasto land to account. No sugar, to speak of, was then grown in that part of the Island. Today about 30,000 acres are given over to bananas and annually 14,000,000 bunches are exported.

Feared Favor for Cuba.

"After the Spanish-American war there was the groundless fear that Cuba would be favored and that the United States would be shut against Jamaican bananas. Mr. Chamberlain's sympathies were enlisted, and the Elder Dempster boats were started to Bristol to open up an English trade. The collection of the truit and the marketing of the bananas here was intrusted to another firm in no way connected with the shipping company and having no share in the subsidy-Elders Fyffes.

In 1963 the hurricane devastated the In 1995 the hurricane devastated the Jamaica plantations and for ten months the subsidized steamers carried no ban-anas. Sir Alfred Jones lost $25,000, but he maintained the service. Nevertheless he is the most abused man today in Jamaica.

Went to Central America.

"A year before the hurricane Elders Fyffes became associated with the United Fruit company, and Jamaica falling, they were enabled to obtain supplies of bananas from Central America, and the demand is so great that the acreage is rapidly increasing. In Costa Rica there will be a million bunches available this year, and next year a million and a half.

Don't Have Monopoly.

"Elders Fyffes are taking 130,000 bunches a month from Jamaica and from Central America about 200,000. They have supplemented the service of the Elder Dempster line, and they have discovered the proper way of carrying bananas. They do not have a monopoly of the trade, and it is open for any one to pay the Jamaicans $55 for their crop and to bring the fruit to London and try to sell it at a profit. Every increase of importation has been followed by a fall in price. The retail price has gone steadily down during the last four years. the last four years.

Advantage Is Jamaica's.

"It was Mr. Chamberlain who opened up the English trade. The banana has not only become cheaper, it has grown larger. But if we had to depend on Jamalea we should be wiped out. True, the island has now fully recovered from the hurricane and the output of the fields is once again normal. The subsidized line contracted to bring 20,000 bunches a forturally the street now importing these times. light; we are now importing three times that quantity, besides having established an orange trade. The balance of advan-tage is distinctly on the side of Jamalca. It has had better prices for its fruit than any other part of the world.

America Appreciates Banana.

The Americans are ten years ahead o "The Americans are ten years ahead of the English in their appreciation of the bananas. They offered very high prices for it, and we soon discovered that it could be produced cheaper in Central America. Growers in Jamaica ran up the prices gaainst us owing to the United States' demand. In addition to that we could not get the grades that would carry long distances. We think that the trade could not get the grades that would carry long distances. We think that the trade can only be developed by giving the con-sumer the proper quality at a very low price. The demand both here and in the United States can be amply supplied without going above the prices we are paying. The prices usked by American speculators are prohibitive."

HATRED OF THE TARTARS

They Are Bent on Complete Extermination of Armenians.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 3.-The first and principal cause of the disorders at Baku is the hatred of the Armenians. This feeling is of long standing and is never absent. the Caucasus, and for several years the Russian authorities have had much difficulty in restraining the Tartars from cruel and bloody reprisals.

The Armenians understand the situation and, aware of their danger, are arming themselves. The Baku massacres in February showed how well they could defend themselves. This was evidenced again in the last seven days by the large number of Tartars killed in the rioting. The Tartars, however, seem bent on exterminating the Armenians by killing them and destroying their villages, homes and churches

The Armenians have the upper hand in commerce and in industry. This superiority galls the Tartars and increases their hatred. This outbreak was predicted almost to a day three months ago, but the Government even forbade the refinery owners to organize private militia for the protection of their property.

NUNS FIRST POWDERED HAIR

Fashionable Dames, Struck by Novel Effect, Adopted the Custom.

The custom of powdering the hair dates back as far as the sixteenth century and was first introduced by the nune in French convents. Those who had occasion to leave the cloisters for any reason were wont to nowder their hate so as to make it appear gray and give them a venerable look. The fashionable dames were so struck with the novel effect o white powder on dark hair that the yearon ap propriated the device as one of the arts of the worldly toilet. Out of this grew the use of tints in the hair. The Roman women offer used blue powder and later, in 1869, Empres Eugenic set the fashion of using gold powder Rome under the empire and Greece during the time of Pericles were seized with a minute for golden hair. The beltes and fops of the day devised several methods whereby black day dayled several methods whereby black iccks might be changed to golden yellow, but bleaching did not always succeed. Consequently quite a trade was established with the fatr-haired tribes beyond the Alps, who sold their locks to Latin insishness to be worn on the heads of Roman dandles. Many a dame dampened her raven tresses in the strongest of muriatic acid and eat in the sun to bleach her hair to the covered yellow. Others used by and afterward ancinted their heads with oil made from goat fat, askes of the beech tree and certain yellow flowers.

their heads with oil made from goat fet ashes of the beech tree and certain yellow flowers.

The itinerant barber, who passed down and out when people censed to use powder in their hair was quite a personage in his day. He went from house to house, armed with a soop bowl to fit the chin, powder boxes, somatum and puffs, was always a newsmonger and a gratuitous scandal bearer.

When wigs wers in vegos the Roman dames had in their wardrobes as many wigs as costumes, and when the choice of a wig was made it was necessary to arrange the cre-brown linkes and complexion in harmony. It was then that the slaves were specially charged with the make-up of the face-a delicate operation, called by Cierra "Melicaments candorts et raborts."

There were some cunning devices in vogue among the belies of the old world for giving expression to the eye. The most reckiess of them were wont to place a single drop of that deadly policin, prussic acid, in the bottom of a wine glass and hold it against the eves for two or three seconds. Or, more rashly stift they would take a small quantity—a piece not larger than a grain of rice—of an ointment containing that mortal drug atropia, and rub it on the brow. Each of these was surposed to give clearness and brilliancy, expand the pupil and impart a fascinating fullness and neclearness to the eye. Certain slightly pungent and volattle perfumes, such as oil of them, were occasionally worn on the handkerchief, causing the eyes to gillier and sparkle. The eye was made to appear large, full and almound shaped by the use of a fine prottin diack, rabled upon the lids along the angle.

But after all, the survet means by which a woman may accular and pretty as is mosable with all the begiltimate means at his command. If she is always kind and gentle, always ready to give to others the sunniest side of her nature.

OGDEN COUNCILMAN MARVELS AT IDAHO

Is Surprised by the Evidence of Material Growth and Prosperity.

OGDEN. Sept. &-Councilman R. C. Paine of the Ogden City Council, together with his wife and daughter, returned this morning from trip to the Yellowstone park and the region around St. Anthony, to Ideho. Of the atter region he speaks in the highest terms. "I had no idea," said he, "that such material evelopment existed in that region. I thought, of course, that the country was prospering but I dol not expect to find such an extensive development, nor did I expect to see so much unreclaimed land?

At Jaixed Park up near Maryaville, Mr. Pains found General Manager Bancroft of the Oregon Short Line rusticating and taking on new strongth with a number of his associates Of the fish and game in that region he states that no one can describe it. There is fish, towl and big game, and it is a hunter's para-
